

was first taken bed until yesterday and today, I can trust him to do anything now. We should have done enough leaving him alone with the doctor and last a few days ago."

"It had such dreadful pain in his head," said the father, "we dared not touch his hair even to comb it or cut it or he would go into fits with pain. Last Saturday three weeks I tried to cure his fits, but he had fits every day. He was free in fact down in a drowsy fit. When we heard of the prayer-meeting meetings, he prayed and said he should like to go to the circus, for he believed God would cure him. He went with a friend, and on entering the circus he said, 'I am ill.' My complaint has not been me, two or three diseases. It has been something nearly all my life. I have had a constant complaint for many years. I complain. Just before I went to a physician just before I went to a physician. In Manchester had given me up, and I had yielded myself to God to help me. He looked bright and well, and I said, 'I believe it is God, and I'll prove it.' I then walked up to him, and rubbed my hand hard over the top of his head, and he never so much flinched. I then said, 'I believe it is God, you may run as you like now. When the Lord owned me this afternoon, it was like a hundred weight being lifted off the top of my head."

I went with two neighbors to see a woman who a week ago sought healing from a very painful intestinal disease, bleeding innumerable, and I said, "I will not go to see her, but I will give the substance of her remedies, which were corroborated by her neighbor.

"I have had scarcely any rest from pain for the last six months. I have had sleepless nights while racked with pain. I have done very little work and could not carry anything of weight; in fact, I have not carried a bag since I have been ill. I cannot stand up, nor can I walk, nor can I sit, nor can I lie down. I have been working about, and can now carry a gallon or two of gallons of milk. My heart is filled with joy, and I feel I can praise God enough, or never shall be able to.

I cannot explain this case more fully; but it is regarded by those who are intimate with the woman, one who understands the disease as a marvelously rare one.

You will probably like to hear a little description of the meetings I attended in the circus. I will give you them briefly as I can.

I need not say that the circus has been crowded that, no doubt, you know already. On Wednesday night a fire was started in the part of the building which gave way, and the audience had to be stampeded at the doors to prevent any more people going up; the sick and infirm came for miles around, and whenever the eye turned it was not with disengaged and crippled folks.

The first witness to step forward was George Maynard, from Newmarket. As he came on the platform a murmur, a thrill of astonishment ran through the whole congregation. This brother was well known in Hanley; he spoke as follows:

I stand here for the glory of God. There is a number of people in Ireland who know me as a man who has a broken-up crippled. Lost lost! this poor crippled body was healed by Jesus Christ. I was not only a cripple, I had a complication of diseases---had liver complaint, rheumatism, and all sorts of trouble, and had rheumatism from head to foot; my digestion was a misery to me. I used to say, "I believe my hands are a mass of corruption." For sixteen years I have been an associated weak. Many of you have seen my sorry form (Passionate scenes of types) I have been a burden now! I stand before you a mirror of God's power. My diseases have all gone; my medicines, pills, and my crutches are gone with them. I don't care if I die to God! He has healed me, and His shall have my life, my service, all to glory to His name!"

A burst of loud clapping and cries of "Bravo! Praise God! Praise God!" resounded all over the building, at this speaker's feet.

The next speaker was a native of Hanley, whose name was hidden. He said,

"I am not a stranger here. I have lived in Hanley all my life. For sixteen years I have been a sufferer, but thank God, He is all gone to-night. If I live to the age of Methusalem I shall never forget the thrill of joy I experienced in hearing that when my body and soul were given to God, my hands were laid on my head; God healed there and then, and to-night I scarcely know how to speak to you all, so filled joy."

An other resident of Hanley came next--

"It is but a few days since I heard God's Spirit in my soul, as I was kneeling over yester. Now for the leaves of the tree of life; it is virtue. A lot of you know my complaint; it was simple bronchitis. I have been a miser, and I have been unable to breathe. My chest was very bad, and the doctor told me my lungs were nearly gone. I answered, 'Yes, Lord, I will,' and instantly I felt the disease leave me. I did not tell him it was done, but I felt the disease leave me. I have a weight off my chest, and I breath freely again. The following is the testimony of the wife, which I took down in shorthand:

"My husband was injured by a fall ten years ago, by which the muscles in his right arm were wasted away, so that he was either not headed on, whose healing did not appear at the time, and the newspaper have reported some cases of failure as examples of the work, I determined to visit one of these meetings, and I attended the one mentioned. The following is the testimony of the wife, which I took down in shorthand:

Mrs. Ely, a lady from Manchester, said she had great losses, and had suffered much to man to be healed. "Please God! My complaint has not been me, two or three diseases. It has been something nearly all my life. I have had a constant complaint for many years. I complain. Just before I went to a physician just before I went to a physician. In Manchester had given me up, and I had yielded myself to God to help me. He looked bright and well, and I said, 'I believe it is God, and I'll prove it.'
